[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO DEC. 5

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—In the House various resolutions were introduced and referred to appropriate committees. The President's message was received and read. The House adjourned.

The Senate met at noon with nearly a full attendance. Several resolutions were introduced and referred. The President's message was read and ordered printed.

The Supreme Court met at noon and thereafter adjourned and called upon the President to pay their respects.

The President's message is well received by both parties.

The Treasury Report.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The following are the leading points in the report of the Secretary of Treasury: The public finances have shared measurable prosperity during the year now closing. The reduction of the public debt for the year ending June 30th was $94,327,761. Total decrease from March 1st, 1869, to December 1st, 1871, was $277,211,892.16. During the same period the annual interest has been reduced $16,741,436. The revenues show that the time has come when considerable further reductions can be made and leave the Government in possession of fifty million dollars annually to pay on the public debt including the amount pledged through the sinking fund. He adverts to this opinion in his last annual report that the country required revenue sufficient to meet ordinary expenses of Government, pay interest of public debt, and fifty to sixty millions principal. He says the power to negotiate a loan at five per cent, and enter upon negotiations for the sale of bonds drawing 5 and 4½ and 4 per cent, is desired entirely from exhibitions of honest purpose on the part of the people to maintain public faith.

It is practicable to dispense with all internal tax, except that derived from stamps, spirits, tobacco and malt liquors—an estimated reduction of sixteen millions. He recommends reduction of duty on salt, bituminous coal, raw hides and skins, and a large addition to the free list—an estimated reduction of twenty millions. Total reduction thirty-six millions. In his suggestions in reference to reduction of taxes, he says: "I keep in view the ability of the nation to pay at least fifty millions annually of the principal of the debt. On the change of the revenue system no violence should to done to the business interests of the country." He recommends the abolition of the system of moieties and shares in the the revenue service, and suggests that distribution of circulation be allowed to revenue as it now stands.

The national banks have subscribed for over one hundred millions of the new loan. He recommends an appropriation for a new issue of national bank notes, and asks an appropriation to rebuild the custom house and post office at Chicago, the marine hospital at San Francisco, etc, and suggests the passage of a bill for organization of a mint bureau. He says the report of Charles Bryant Spingt shows that the Alaska Commercial Company has conducted the fur and seal fisheries in substantial accordance with their contracts.

He reviews the history of the new loans, and says that no doubt the whole business will be concluded in a brief period. He advises increased compensation for negotiation of the 4½ per cent. loan, and thinks such action will remove all obstacles to the negotiation. He recommends appropriate legislation to revive the shipping and ship building interests. He suggests that drawbacks be allowed on materials entering into construction of ships, and that sufficient subsidies be granted to make their construction and maintenance profitable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The members from the Pacific coast have places on the following committees: Pacific Railroad, Houghton of California, and Slater of Oregon; Post Offices and Post Roads, Cohlan of California; Mines and Mining, Sargent of California, chairman, and Kendall of Nevada.

Alexis at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4.—The Grand Duke Alexis, after enjoying the hospitalities of the Commander of the Navy Yard, returned to his hotel to prepare for a grand ball at the Academy of Music, which was a brilliant affair. The building was elaborately decorated, and a splendid banquet was set at midnight. The festivity lasted till a late hour.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

German Troops in France.

BERLIN, Dec. 4.—In consequence of continuous and frequent murderous assaults on German soldiers in France, all the provinces still occupied by armed forces of Germany are declared in a state of seige, and the perpetrators of such crimes will hereafter be tried by court-martial on the spot.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—The Hawaiian Government has agreed to pay $2,000 a month for eighteen months to Webb's Australian line, contingent upon the steamers touching at Honolulu.

Six companies of the 5th cavalry which arrived from the East yesterday, sailed on the steamer Newbern for Arizona via Colorado river.

The 1st regiment, N. G. C., Col. Barnes, will not go to Sacramento in full, but the officers will.

The Mexican Consul, Dr. Rivas, gives notice that the port of Magdalena Bay, Lower California, will remain open to foreign and coastwise commerce until the 31st instant, when it will be closed by decree of the Supreme Government, not by order of the late Collector.

THE PRESIDENTIAL QUESTION.

[From the New York Herald Nov. 21.]

We have a curious report from Washington, which we accept as substantially true, and it is to this effect:—That on the 30th of the present month—Thanksgiving Day, four days before the reassembling of Congress, a secret council is to be held in Philadelphia, Baltimore or Harrisburg—most probably in the latter place—which will be composed of General Benjamin F. Butler, of Massachusetts; Senator Carl Schurz, of Missouri; Jacob D. Cox, of Ohio; Senator Spencer, of Alabama; W. M. Evarts, Thurlow Weed, Horace Greeley, C. A. Dana and George Wilkes, of New York; Senator Trumbull, of Illinois, and some half dozen or more of others of the anti Grant Republican managers—that Senator Sumner and Wilson of Massachusetts, will also each have a finger in the pie, but will not be present on the momentous occasion, and that the object of this extraordinary assemblage will be to arrange a programme for the coming Congress to head off General Grant and to unite the Republicans opposed to his nomination upon some general plan of operations.

This is one of those desperate remedies which are required in desperate cases; but it comes too late. The movement, however, is very interesting, and will be apt to result in some very curious political disclosures, alliances and complications. To begin with, we have in this forthcoming secret convention of disaffected Republicans, the solution of all these late mysterious arguments in leading Democratic journals in favor of a passive policy by the Democracy in 1872—the policy of keeping their party in the background and and of letting the anti-Grant Republicans come forward and then, by a flank movement to bring up to its support the whole strength of the Democracy, with all the loose materials of the country, and sweep the field. This plan has evidently been agreed up between some of the Democratic leaders and the managers of the anti-Grant Republicans, and hence the arrangement for this secret council at Harrisburg. Carl Schurz has been the most active missionary in this work. He was in this city last week, and doubtless he was here on this important business of a new combination for the defeat of General Grant.

The plan, then, having been agreed upon between the high contracting parties, we have only to consider the elements which it embraces and the prospects of the joint stock coalition. Who are these anti-Grant Republican managers? Is not every man of them a disappointed office expectant or office-seeker? Every man of them would have been this day, most likely, crying up General Grant to the seventh heaven, had he only given them and each of them the office or offices asked for or expected. But they asked or expected too much; for it is with office-seekers and expectants as with a militia company—they cannot all be captains. "Many are called but few are chosen." How far, then, is the wrath of these disappointed men likely to affect the solid masses of the Republican party? How far did the wrath of Calhoun and the numerous Democratic Scorpheads of General Jackson's first term affect, in 1832, his second election? How far did the active electioneering of Mr. Chase, in 1864, for the Presidential succession, as "Father Greenbacks," with all his backers, including Mr. Greeley, affect the renomination and reelection of Abraham Lincoln? The opposition of Calhoun and of all the dismissed Cabinet and others officers of Jackson so far strengthened him in 1832 that he walked over the course. The efforts of Mr. Chase and his backers to supersede Lincoln increased the strength of "Honest Old Abe" in the Republican nominating convention and his majority in the election. In both these cases the finest masses of the country, proud of their President, and believing that he was unjustly assailed, rallied to his support; and so they will do in the case of General Grant.

These Republican malcontents, singly or combined, can only muster a corporal's guard of followers against General Grant, and they know it. Hence their first efforts have been to engineer him out of the Republican Nominating Convention. They have discovered that they do not carry guns enough for this purpose, and now they are ready for a bolt and a fusion with the Democracy on the plan suggested. But those fusion tickets are never adopted except in cases of confessed weakness, and they have never amounted to anything in our Presidential contests. For example: with all the fusions and jamketings between the national Republicans, so called, with Henry Clay as their candidate, and the anti-Masons, with William Wirt as their candidate, in 1832, against Jackson, they gained nothing and accomplished nothing. And so it was with the fusions and combinations tried against Van Buren in 1836; and so it was with the fusion tickets tried against Lincoln in 1870. In a word, no man has ever been elected President of the United States since Washington except as the candidate of a well defined, and homogeneous party organization, and the attempt to elect a no-party man in 1872 will signally fail.

But they say that Carl Schurz proposes, in this anti-Grant Republican and Democratic coalition, a new party on a new platform acceptable to both sides—viz., universal amnesty, civil service reform and free trade. This will not do: for it will split up and scatter the anti-Grant republicans from the start. Conspicuous among the latters, Mr. Greeley will "spit upon such a platform," for he is famous for spitting upon platforms that don't suit him, and free trade don't suit him, and this secret anti-Grant Republican conference will be a failure in reference to a combined plan of operations for the defeat of General Grant; but it will doubtless be a success in disclosing the weakness of these anti-Grant Republican managers as Presidential pipe-players on the new departure of Carl Schurz. This Harrisburg conference, if attempted, will be a fizzle, compared with which the Philadelphia Andy Johnson Convention of 1866 will appear as a mountain to a molehill; and the project of handing off General Grant in Congress appears to us more ridiculous than was the declaration of Botts, of Virginia, in his day, against Captain Tyler, that "we will head him or die."

But the Democratic journals, East and West, are rapidly becoming fascinated with the Missouri fusion policy of Mr. Schurz. The Freeman's Journal of Cooperstown, New York, chants this new Democratic departure with refreshing enthusiasm. It says that "it is a humiliating statement to make, but one demanded by truth and fairness" "that the Democratic party as a national organization is to-day in a hopeless minority in the country." This is true, according to the results of this year's State elections, including New York, the Democratic citadel and base of operations. What, then, is to be done? General Grants says our rural contemporary, "has proved himself a far better politician than President;" that "the next Republican convention will be packed with his creatures," and that he will be renominated against all remonstrances from his party. What then? Why, then, says our Cooperstown philosopher, let the Democratic party abandon its National Convention, unite with the anti-Grant Republicans, and "let us defeat Grant with any good and able statesman available for that purpose, and break down this weak and corrupt administration."

This means the disbanding of the Democracy as a national party and the fusion of its forces upon Sumner, Trumbull, Gratz Brown, General Butler or Greeley, if either of these men should be chosen as the opposition Republican candidate; and they all are candidates for the honor. The Richmond Enquirer goes for Sumner, in view of the Southern black vote; but Butler or Greeley for this purpose would answer perhaps as well. But how would the masses of the Northern Democracy regard such a candidate? Ten to one the majority would drop it and go for General Grant. At all events, at this crisis the suspension of the Democratic party as a national organization means its dissolution and dispersion, and that there will be little or no organized opposition against General Grant's re-election. We have contended over and over again that the Democratic party has run it career, with its dead issues and dead men, and that a new party organization must follow. But this new organization can do nothing in 1872. We expect, then, that General Grant next fall, like Monroe in 1820, with the dissolution of the old anti-war party of his day, will be overwhelmingly re elected, and that in 1876, as in 1824, we shall have a beautiful scrub race for the succession, and that out of it will follow a new organization of parties. Meantime, there never was a clearer case in advance than the re-election of General Grant.

NEWS CONDENSATIONS.

It has been raining pretty generally throughout California, and the newspapers are delighted with the "pleasant prospects." Farmers are beginning to hope for a crop next year.

The Secretary of the Treasury has ordered the accounts of every disbursing officer under the Government to be made up, with a view of being ready to present them to Congress.

A dispatch from Paris, Nov. 28, gives this: The Commune prisoners, Rossel, Ferre and Bourgease were taken to the place of execution under a strong escort; a hollow square was formed of troops, at one end of which the prisoners were placed. The behavior of those men was most courageous. Bourgease approached to be blindfolded, then Ferre refused to have a bandage placed over his eyes, declaring he should look his executioners in the face. At 7 o'clock the company detailed for duty advanced and fired. Rossel fell at the first discharge and was instantly killed. The bullets did not take immediate effect upon the others, and as they were writhing, the same shooting party, in obedience to instructions, came up with pistols, gave the coup de grace and put them out of their agony. The bodies were then placed in coffins and immediately removed. The execution took place in the presence of 3,000 troops. A profound sensation was produced throughout the city by the details of their death. Young Rossel was much lamented.

Farragut the Brave.

Ex-Secretary of the Navy Welles, in an article published in the December Galaxy, pays the following eloquent tribute to Admiral Farragut. The reference to the indignities he suffered at the hands of the "Maury Ring," of which Porter is the head, is very pointed:

It is to be regretted that the last days of this brave, truthful, amiable and exemplary man for whom his countrymen had and always will retain a deep and abiding affection and regard, should have been subjected to petty annoyances from a few who were envious of his fame or incapable of doing him justice. Although honored and loved by his countrymen and at the head of the navy, he does not appear to have had the confidence of those who administered its affairs for the last eighteen months of his life, or to have been consulted in matters which personally and officially interested and legitimately belonged to him as naval chief. Great changes were made in the service without his knowledge and against his judgment. He was compelled to receive orders which notoriously emanated from one of inferior rank. The office of Admiral which Congress had created for him in acknowledgment of his distinguished and unequaled services was, he saw, designed by favoritism to pass to another. In various ways ignoble and ungenerous minds hastened to mortify the great and unassuming naval chief. In derogation of his real rank and position as chief and head of the navy, he was made port-admiral or usher to wait upon and receive naval officers at New York, an employment which self-respect and regard for the navy compelled him to decline. Among other indignities was that of ordering the uniform and the flag of Admiral which he had adopted when the government created and conferred on him the office, to be changed, and substituted therefor a different uniform and another flag wholly unlike the one he wore, and unlike the symbol of rank which was identified with him, and from the time the office was created had floated over him. Farragut would neither change his coat nor permit the tawdry substitute for the Admiral flag to wave over him. On his special, personal application, which he felt humiliated to make, the Secretary of the Navy permitted him to be spared these indignities during his life, but it was with the kn

The Daily Oregonian.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. 6, 1871.

Citizenship and Suffrage

A few days ago an article from an Eastern paper relative to a recent judicial decision concerning woman suffrage was introduced in the OREGONIAN by the following:

It is held by the United States Court for the District of Columbia that the Fourteenth Amendment has clothed the American woman with the character of a citizen (as if she were not a citizen before), and made her a voter everywhere except in the aforesaid District.

To this the New Northwest rejoins.

There! After this we shall look for the OREGONIAN to preach to woman in language like this: "Ladies, let none of you neglect your duty as citizens! Come out on election day, and the belligerent hosts of rum-soaked masculines who have heretofore made Bedlam of our polls, thereby making respectable men ashamed to offer their ballots, will skulk off to 'liquor up' and never show their carbuncled noses more." Let us see if the OREGONIAN will dare espouse our cause. We should like that journal to tell us what constitutes citizenship? In our unsophisticated verdancy we always believed that a person to be a citizen of the United States must be a voter and possess the right to hold property and office. If we were right, whence comes our brother's exclamation in parenthesis? If wrong, what is citizenship? May we hope for an explanation?

We do not print these remarks by the Northwest for the sake of a controversy with that paper, but because they contain errors that are very prevalent. Citizenship is one thing; suffrage is another. White persons of both sexes and all ages, born in the United States and under their allegiance, have in all times been citizens thereof. Women and children are and always have been citizens, the same as full grown men. And women born out of the allegiance of the United States have been naturalized, on coming to this country, under our laws. Colored persons were not citizens of the United States "under the Constitution as it was," but by the Fourteenth Amendment they were made so, and placed on an equality as to citizenship and civil rights with other persons. Every person, white or black, born under the jurisdiction of the United States and in allegiance thereto is a citizen from the moment of his birth. No person has to wait for citizenship till he (or she) attains the age of twenty-one years. This now is the rule as before stated, colored persons not included in it till the Fourteenth Amendment was adopted. And that amendment was devised expressly to take in the colored population. All white persons of American birth, without distinction of age or sex, were citizens before.

Now as to suffrage. Up to the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment the States had entire control of this subject (except as to election of Congressmen), and they now have control of it except in so far as their power has been abridged by that Amendment. Among the distinctions by which the States could limit the exercise of the suffrage prior to the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment were those of race, color or previous condition of servitude. But that Amendment, in direct terms, took this power away. Its language is, "the right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied by the United States, or by any State, on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude." But we do not read anywhere that it prohibits the United States or any State from denying the right of citizens to vote on account of sex, [illegible] of intelligence or property. Once the States had power to limit the suffrage by distinctions of race, color, sex, property, intelligence, etc.; they now have that power in respect only to the last named distinctions, and can no longer shut out citizens from the ballot box on account of race or color.

Citizenship and suffrage are often spoken of as if they were interchangeable terms. A little attention will suffice to show how distinct they are from each other. In Oregon and most other States persons of foreign birth, who have not become citizens, are allowed to vote. Such persons must reside five years in the United States before they become citizens, but the laws of Oregon allow them to vote within a year after their arrival, provided they make a declaration of their purpose to become citizens.

We might pursue this subject with further illustrations, but the above will be sufficient to indicate the line of reasoning and facts by which the common confusion of ideas in regard to citizenship and suffrage may be corrected.

A Great Man's Opinion of Small Men.

The Herald thinks it rather complimentary than otherwise to Governor Grover that he should be universally regarded as a trimming, shuffling, truckling politician, selfish in his aims and methods, and noted for his flexibility or studied vacancy of opinion on all subjects except the Chinaman. It says, therefore, "The very thing which the OREGONIAN charges as a fault in the Governor, is in our judgment, a very high recommendation." It especially commends him for his habit of shifting his sails to catch every supposed popular breeze, and seen nothing to censure in that "prudence" of his which never commits an opinion till it sees what others are going to do or say. This may be "statesmanship," according to modern demagogical ideas, but it does not conform to the established models. Burke, for instance, said on one occasion, when he must have had some of the little great ones like Governor Grover in his mind's eye, "The very attempt towards framing everybody's opinions, is always flashy, and often false and insincere." How exceedingly close this fits in the case before us! Again, Burke spoke in proper contempt of the "little silly canvass prattle" uttered by a class of public men who (like Gov. Grover) act on the principle that they must have no opinion of their own, but in all cases must study the opinions of others to ascertain what ought to be done. "I did not," said Burke, in a bold and manly speech to his constituents whose wishes he had in one particular opposed, "I did not obey your instructions. No. I conformed to the instructions of truth and nature and maintained your interest against your opinions. I know that you chose me along with others to be a pillar of the State and not a weathercock on the top of the edifice, exalted for my levity and versatility, and of no use but to indicate the shiftings of every fashionable gale." But we stop here, our only reason for mentioning the names of so great a man and so small a one in the same connection, being simply to let the former describe the latter.

The Secretary of the Navy, in his annual report virtually takes ground in favor of building vessels of the navy and repairing the same, at private ship yards. An investigation has shown that the expense will be less to the Government than at present. Ship building will thereby be revived and work done just as well as at present in the Government yards. The Secretary does not, in so many words, recommend this course to Congress, but the effect of his argument is substantially the same. Those who are interested in the revival of ship building intend to press this view very earnestly on Congress.

A Bill of Particulars.

The "free use made of his name in connection with the Portland subsidy bill" has moved General John F. Miller to write a letter to the "organ" on the subject. He says he favored the passage of the bill by the Legislature, but afterwards on reflection was content that it was vetoed. He wishes further to correct the erroneous impression that he exerted any influence to procure the veto of the bill. So he relates circumstantially and in detail a great variety of incidents; tells how the bill had passed the Senate and was pending in the House; how at this stage Mr. Holladay wished to know if the Governor would sign it and he (General Miller) didn't know but believed he could ascertain; how he started to go over to the Governor's house, but met him on the long bridge; how he asked the Governor what he thought of the bill, and was answered quick and sharp that it was unconstitutional and would be vetoed.

This is very agreeable reading. For multifarious incidents and elaborate particularization, for that nice attention to minute details which is characteristic of persons who love accuracy and mean to carry conviction by enumerating circumstantially everything connected with the event, we think this narrative has never but once been equaled. And that was when Mistress Ursula sat about making Falstaff remember his vow to marry her. "Then didn't swear to me upon a parcel-gilt goblet, sitting in my Dolphin-chamber, at the round table, by a sea-coal fire, upon Wednesday in Whitsun-week, when the Prince broke thy head for liking his father to a singing man of Windsor, thou didn't swear to me then as I was washing thy wound, to marry me and make me my lady, thy wife? Canst thou deny it?"

Of course no one will question the credibility or correctness of General Miller's circumstantial narrative. So many nice particulars are related that it is fair to presume that he must have written them down at the time for future use. It was long ago discovered that the trick of making any story credible lay in relating it with the utmost variety of detail.

Another Hope Blasted.

Senator Trumbull's utterances on the political situation, as given by a telegram of December 3d, virtually knock the bottom out of the "passive policy," and destroy another Democratic plan which had been hopefully prepared for the campaign of '72. All Democratic calculations rest upon a hope that a large body of disaffected Republicans will refuse to support Grant for re-election, and will unite with them. It is universally admitted that without such a reinforcement from the Republican ranks, they will have no chance whatever for success in the coming Presidential election. Some of the more sagacious of them have hoped that by being "passive" and allowing the anti-Grant Republicans to name the candidate, there might be a sufficient "bolt" from the Republican ranks to leave that party in a minority. Senator Trumbull has been counted on as chief of the Republican dissenters. But his emphatic declarations, as reported by the telegram alluded to, show that he is not in the movement and will not participate in it. They prove, further, that the movement itself amounts to nothing, and that there will be no "bolt" from Grant if he is renominated. For if Senator Trumbull cannot be counted among those Republicans who are expected to assist in defeating Grant and in helping the Democratic party, what prominent Republicans of the slumbering sort on whom the Democrats have relied, can be included in this enumeration? The reasons given by Trumbull are good, and strongly stated. First, the people are not ready for a change. Second, Grant's defeat would cause a dangerous reaction in the South. Third, the Republican party is not divided, and will poll a stronger vote than in 1868. Since the hope of co-operation with such men as Senator Trumbull is gone, it will be in order for the sorely perplexed Democracy to try something else.

Reduction of National Taxes.

An outline of the report of the Secretary of the Treasury is furnished by telegraph. A large reduction of taxation is recommended by the Secretary, since, in his opinion, the finances of the country are now so well established that this can be done. The Secretary says that all internal taxes except those on liquor and tobacco can now be dispensed with, and we may be sure that Congress will act on this suggestion. Certain reductions are also recommended in duties on imports. Beyond question there will be a thorough revision of the revenue laws this winter, and taxes will be lighted and adjusted.

The Common Council of this city has been asked to appropriate $1,000 to defray the expense of publishing the prize essays on Oregon which were written a short time ago. The object in asking this is to provide means of furnishing information concerning Oregon to people abroad. At present there are no documents of this character to be obtained, all previous publications of the sort having been exhausted. It is said that $1,000 will pay for printing 15,000 copies of these prize essays. The tax on the property of the city would be less than twenty-five cents on each one thousand dollars, and would not be felt. We are inclined to think that an appropriation of this sort would be a proper use of money.

Arrangements have been completed by President Marsh, of Pacific University, at Forest Grove, by which his paper, the North Pacific, the first number of which appeared two or three weeks since, will hereafter appear regularly each week. The publication of this paper will entail a good deal of expense, but it is believed that educational, local and social interests demand and will justify the outlay. Mr. F. J. Curtis, as agent of the paper, will visit different parts of the State to canvass for it.

THE DEMONSTRATION OF THE DEMOCRACY.—If there are any unsophisticated persons residing in the political community who believe that the Democratic party is not thoroughly demoralized, let him read the annexed comments from the Detroit Post:

The Democratic organs still continue to invent new departures. The Washington Patriot nominates Charles Sumner as Democratic candidate for President! The Cincinnati Inquirer goes for Col. Scott, who was Stanton's assistant during the war. The St. Louis Republican is willing to take anybody that any clique of dissatisfied Republicans may nominate. The Chicago Times indicates that Gov. Grover will be its choice. It only remains for the Boston Post to nominate Wendell Phillips, the New York World to nominate Fred. Douglas, and the Richmond Enquirer to nominate General Grant, to make the Democratic new departures complete. As for the Democrats of Michigan, the Free Press seems to be preparing to nominate Ross Tweed, and Tweed is preparing to run away. Those who do not like this, but, like the Democrats in other States, are bound to run a Republican, can go for Senator Trumbull or Chief Justice Chase, each of whom has been nominated by Democratic journals heretofore.

More about the "Women Movement."

FOREST GROVE, Dec. 2, 1871.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Sir: I proceed to give your readers an account of Mrs. Duniway's second lecture in this place upon the woman question. She began this time by giving a sort of summary of the history of the movement, showing that there were women whose names had come down to posterity with honor, who as long ago as 1828 were agitators of this question. Then in 1836, when she herself was but two years old (by which the school boys figured she must now be thirty-seven) Lucretia Mott, Pauline Wright Davis and a number of other women of worth and ability identified themselves with the movement, by urging the Legislatures of the different States to pass a Married Woman's Property Bill, by which the wife might be able to control some portion of her own earnings. She said it was now twenty years since women began to demand the ballot, and in less than one year from now they would all possess it; for everywhere, even in Forest Grove, the women were preparing for the campaign of '72. She said they were going to vote at the next election under protection of their rights as guaranteed to them by the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Federal Constitution, which Amendments emphatically declare that all citizens have the right to vote without distinction of race, color or previous condition of servitude; which latter clause would include every mother in the land. She read the law of Oregon in relation to the property of a husband that dies intestate, and demanded that women should be co-legislators with men, and then these laws that are a disgrace to our State will be abolished. She had been requested to tell the audience "what good it would do the women if they should vote." "Gentlemen, what good does it do you to vote? Would any of you sell your right to vote for a kingdom? You know you would not do it; and if this right is so sacred to you that you would rather die than part with it, what might it not do for woman, who, from her very weakness, stands much more than yourselves in need of the greatest largess of liberty in order that she may, by the use of the ballot, protect herself and her children?"

The lecturer spoke an hour and a half, never hesitating for a word or thought and showing no sign of fatigue from first to last. The "then condition" was a grand success, culminating in the organization of a "Woman's Political Investigation Association."

The people here consider Mrs. Duniway equal, and in many respects, superior to Miss Anthony. She is at once pleasant, forcible, witty and logical, and when the railroad is completed the suffragists here expect to secure her services frequently. T.

Queer Doings in Washington Territory.

A joint committee appointed by the Legislature of Washington Territory to examine the Territorial finances have made a report which is a queer mixture of dry facts and sharp sarcasm. We quote a paragraph or two:

Upon examination of the various cost bills found in the auditor's office, the committee were struck speechless with admiration at the eminent engineering ability of several of the sheriffs, but particularly that of sheriff Carson, of Pierce. This officer, as the committee have heretofore reported, was able to transport a prisoner all the way from Steilacoom to Vancouver and bring two back again for the insignificant sum of $1,031.

The Assembly will pardon the digression and permit us to state that in our opinion the gravel wastes and fir solitudes of Pierce can never afford scope for the brilliant financial nollity and fertile resources of this officer. Let him seek the nation's great metropolis, New York, and we are sanguine that Boss Tweed will at once hand over the belt to the "clamdigger sheriff."

The examination developed interesting phases in the letting of the contract for keeping the insane and repair of the asylum buildings. Contractor Harmon was authorized to expend $300 in repairing the buildings, and he so closely followed instructions that the account rendered only amounts to a little more than $4,000. The committee concludes that daily association with the insane has rendered the contractor stark mad, and we await with great anxiety the next report of resident physician Hemmenway.

The report closes with a resolution to be passed by the Legislature instructing the prosecuting attorneys to commence actions, civil or criminal, or both, against all persons who may have thus fraudulently or unlawfully obtained Territorial funds.

Large amounts of capital are still being invested in various industrial enterprises throughout the country. Peoria, Ill., is to have a mammoth institution—Agricultural Machine Works—with a capital of two millions of dollars, which has already been pledged. Cleveland rejoices in a Union Screw Company, with a capital of one million dollars. It is reported that English capitalists have purchased iron and coal lands along the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, and offer to invest one million dollars in the manufacture of iron if they can have the assurance of a reasonable freight tariff. The Vulcan Iron Works of St. Louis, with a force of 800 men, are producing daily 90 tons of pig iron and 150 tons of finished rails. Foundations have been laid in Fall River for 16 new mills, on which $8,000,000 will be expended.

SENATOR NYE'S LAST.—The Galaxy gives the following:

Scene, in a far Western State: A village composed mostly of rude mining huts called "houses, cottages, taverns," etc., though really they are but "abanties." An old man sick on his bed. A friend, Governor J. W. Nye, seeing that his end was close at hand, showed him many kind attentions and endeavored to ease his suffering in every possible way. One day, when it was quite evident that the poor patient could last only a few hours, the Governor said to him:

"Davis, it is undoubtedly best that you should know the truth; you are a very sick man, and will in all probability live but a very short time. Are your affairs in the condition you would like to have them? I should be glad to do any thing for you, you know."

"Yes they're all right."

"Well, would you like me to write to any of your folks East?"

"Not now—after it is over."

"Would you like me to call a minister?"

The sick man, by a great effort of will over a weak and shattered body, drew himself up in bed so as to be in a sitting posture, and sternly, most soberly, said: "Why, Governor, what should I want a minister for? I never voted the Democratic ticket in my life!"

From the Boise Statesman: General Carter, who has been about several days at the Basin surveying the ground for a bed-rock flume down Moore's Creek, has returned. Although not fully completed, enough is known to warrant the practicability of the work. The fall was found to be amply sufficient for all purposes, and the labor of this important enterprise will soon be commenced.

A boy stealing chestnuts in a town not far from New York was caught by the irate owner of the trees. "What is your name, you little scamp?" he asked. "Tweed," blubbered the boy, whereupon the frightened farmer loosed his hold and fled.

Failure of many of the most eminent physicians of San Francisco to cure a case of Rheumatism.—Triumph of the Unk Weed Remedy.

SAN JOSE, August 25, 1871.

DR. A. M. LOWE & CO.: This is to certify that I, the undersigned, have been sick for five months with Rheumatism, and have been treated for many ailments. My trouble has been weakness of the back and side, and wandering pains all over my body. I have been treated by many of the most eminent physicians of San Francisco, as well as of this city, but without any effect. At last I was induced to try your UNK WEED REMEDY, and the result was that after taking the contents of two bottles I found myself perfectly cured. To all afflicted with Rheumatism, I say TRY THE UNK WEED REMEDY, and you will be cured. Yours truly, JAMES AHERN, San Jose.

WEDNESDAY, MORNING, DEC. 6, 1871.

CITY.

NEW BOOKS.—Mrs. Rosa Martin, one of the oldest book canvassers now in the business in Oregon, has laid upon our table specimen copies of three new books, for which she proposes to canvass in this city. The first is "Six nights with the Washingtonians," by T. S. Arthur, author of "Ten nights in a bar-room," and one of the best story writers of America. It is a story of thrilling interest, with steel portrait and autograph of the author, and eleven full-page spirited engravings, by George Cruikshank, the celebrated English engraver and caricaturist. It is furnished to subscribers only, in three different but elegant and durable bindings, at $3 50, $4 50 and $6 00.

The second is "Garnered Sheaves," by Albert D. Richardson, collected and arranged by his wife, and to which is added a biographical sketch of the author, with a fine portrait and spirited engravings. Mr. Richardson, the author of "The Field of the Dungeon and Escape," "Beyond the Mississippi," "An account of the overland trip of 'Colfax Party' in 1865—" "A Personal History of Grant," etc., was one of the most brilliant war writers, and no works by any recent author have had such a more extensive sale. The matter in this book are stories of personal adventure and travel; biographical sketches of explorers, inventors, statesmen, frontiersmen, and men of the times; historic reminiscences and romantic incidents; humorous sketches, anecdotes of pioneers, etc., etc. It is unquestionably one of the most interesting of all the late publications. It is furnished to subscribers only at $3 25 in fine cloth binding.

The last is "Chicago and the Great Conflagration," a work of five hundred pages and illustrated with thirty engravings, by Elias Colbert and Everett Chamberlain, of the editorial staff of the Chicago Tribune. It contains not only a full and graphic description of the great calamity of the 8th, 9th and 10th of October, 1871, but an interesting history of the city from the date of its first settlement, with accounts of the institutions of the city at the time of its first period of greatness.

CANNON FAIR.—The Lutheran congregation will hold a fair at Armory Hall, commencing Tuesday evening, December 12, 1871, to continue during the week. The object is to raise funds towards the payment of the heavy debt resting upon the church property. Among the number of articles to be disposed of are the following: First—A fine Saltzman gold watch, 5½ oz., 18 carat case; price, $250. This excellent watch will be voted to the most popular Minister; votes, 25 cents each.

Second—A fine gold-headed cane, worth $65, to be voted to the most popular teacher; votes, 25 cents each. The watch and cane are now on exhibition at Henrichsen's jewelry store, 109 First street.

Third—An office chair, to be voted to the most popular physician; votes, 50 cents each.

Fourth—A lunch-knife, to be voted to the homeliest man in Portland; votes, 10 cents each.

Fifth—A huge cake, large as the moon, containing a $50 diamond ring. A large number of other articles will be disposed of in the same way. In connection with the fair will be a musical entertainment each night.

The following committees will have charge of the voting for the above articles: Gold Watch—Gen. Babbitt, Mrs. G. T. Myers and Mrs. Levi Cone; Dr. W. H. Watkins, Mrs. J. N. Dolph and Miss Burton. Chair—Geo. T. Myers, Mrs. Holbrook and Miss S. C. Taylor. Jackknife—E. Proctman and Mrs. Simmons. Cane—Mr. Farmer, Mrs. A. Myers and Mrs. Holbrook.

REPORTED ABSCONDED.—R. A. Abbott and Alfred Tyler, two of the persons to whom was awarded the contract for constructing the second section of the Northern Pacific Railroad, are reported to have left the city and State, clandestinely, leaving behind quite a number of unlucky debts. Both the men had wives who had been left some time ago to Victoria, and who lately took passage from that city to San Francisco. The two men are said to have left here a few days ago, ostensibly to go to Kalama, but instead of stopping at Kalama, they went to Astoria where they took passage on the Ajax for San Francisco. The mourners in this city are numerous, the tune of about sixteen thousand dollars. One man's music is set to the key of twenty-five hundred dollars flat, another's to fifteen hundred. Both the men had been in the grocering business here for about a year. Which is taken to have been stopped at San Francisco.

A DANGEROUS MANIA.—It strikes us that this abortion business is getting ticklish. We have quite a fear that it is catching. At the least, it is getting upon so many in quick succession, carrying them off, there seems to be reasonable grounds for apprehending that it is becoming a disease—one of those incomprehensible diseases which physicians call epidemic, that will baffle the philosophers, confound the doctors, set at mashing, and play the deuce generally. Who will go next is the latest current query. It seems to be coming to this, that each man will have to keep strict ward and watch over himself every time he packs his trunk, or puts on his overcoat, or raises his umbrella, to prevent himself from inconsiderately cutting and running away from home and friends and solicitous creditors. Truly these be perilous times.

ANOTHER HOTEL IN PROSPECT.—We learn that Ben Holladay, Jr., has purchased block C, in Couch's Addition, and will erect upon it a hotel. For that purpose the frame of the saw mill at the foot of G street is to be taken down and re-erected, raised one story higher, and finished up in good style for second class accommodations, for the benefit of mechanics, laborers and others who may want a boarding house at reasonable rates, at the north end of the city. Block C,—the location situated between North Third, North Fourth, I and J streets, along the railroad trestle, is a Honeyed.

THE "WELLINGTONS" ALIVE AGAIN.—We find the following theatrical notice in the San Francisco Figaro: "The Wellington Troupe' gave an entertainment last week, and, as the Union says, badly bamboozled the audience, proving to be a company utterly devoid of talent." From which we conclude the troupe must be the same "Wellingtons" who appeared at Oro Fino Theater a couple of years ago, for one night only, and who were squelched dead, dead, by the bamboozled audience and the theatrical notices of the next mornings. Alas, for ambitious mediocrity!

MASONIC BUILDING ASSESSMENT.—In another column it will be seen that a call is made upon the stockholders of the Masonic Building Association to pay the last assessment upon the capital stock. The annual meeting of the stockholders will be held on the 18th inst., and as only stockholders who have paid up can vote, the call for the last assessment is important.

MASONIC ELECTION.—At a regular meeting of Jefferson Lodge, No. 33, A. F. & A. M., held at their Hall in Jefferson, Dec. 2, 1871, the following officers were duly elected for the ensuing Masonic year: H. A. Johnson, W. M.; John B. Lockey, S. W.; Dr. W. M. Smith, J. W.; A. Bell, Treasurer; Jacob Conser, Secretary; John Burt, Tyler.

LIFE BOAT FOUND.—The Dixie Thompson, from Astoria, reports that a metallic life boat has been found at Shoalwater Bay—washed ashore from sea. There is some speculation as to what vessel it came from. The most probable is, that it is the boat lost from the John L. Stephens during the late gale which she experienced.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—There will be a public lecture delivered by Rev. W. H. Meisse, at the hall of Nanpareil Lodge, corner of Madison and First streets, this evening. The public are cordially invited to attend. Admission free.

MR. B. L. STONE desires to inform his friends, patrons and the public, that he has now on hand one of the largest stocks and finest assortment of Jewelry of all kinds, embracing some of the most elegant diamonds and precious stones—all sorts of Watches and Clocks, silver and plated ware and a general assortment of Spectacles, Opera Glasses, &c., &c. Mr. Stone particularly requests persons wishing anything in his line to call and examine his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

THE GRAND DUKE ALEXIS has signified his intention of coming as far west as San Francisco. He will not be able to visit Portland, but he has given orders to J. O'Neil & Co. for a sack of clothes, in which he is well aware that at that establishment can be had the best fitting, most stylish, and nobby cap, the choicest and cheapest suits to be obtained in this city. Not only have they excellent clothing but they have a full stock of Star Shirts, new ties, underskirts, drawers and the famous Quanaco Umbrella. It is unnecessary to say more. Go to O'Neil & Co's, 95 First street, and rest assured you will be pleased with what you see.

S. L. Stone is giving more toys and fancy goods for six bits than any house in town does for one dollar.

As S. L. Stone is closing out at cost his fancy goods, toys and willow ware, this is the last chance to buy cheap.

Easy, mister, where is the Postoffice? Why, it is next door to S. L. Stone's cigar and tobacco store.

Kris Kringle's headquarters is at S. L. Stone's, next door to the Postoffice.

Everybody says S. L. Stone is selling the best bit and two bit cigars in the city.

Ross Tweed and others of the Tammany Ring have been stirred up very lively of late, but that is nothing compared with the excitement caused by Kohn & Fish's, who have stocked their large clothing establishment, No. 91 Front street, with goods for winter wear to suit all classes, not only in style but in price. Seeing is believing, so go and examine their stock.

That Famous Store(y) Reset.

BY A PRESS BLE.

Go where you will throughout the town;
Or even stroll the country round
The self same notice meets your eye
Of "Go to Barman, Clothes to buy."

Rethinking what a treat 'twould be
Also this famous store to see,
Right to the place at once did I
Myself betake his Clothes to try.
And before time than I can say, sir,
Now Clothes I'd donned—the low price paid, sir.

TESTIMONIAL.

We the undersigned having been the recipients of the services of Mrs. M. C. White in teaching the science of Music on the Pianoforte, take pleasure in giving a hearty testimonial that we have employed her in our families as a teacher of her "New Method of Instruction," and that it had proven superior to any method we have ever known. And that although the first cost may be a trifle greater than some others, we believe it to be in the aggregate much cheaper, beside being a great economy in point of time. We, therefore, take pleasure in recommending her to the patronage of all who may be desirous of obtaining a musical education, as a very superior instructor.

To those who desire to know more about it before increasing any expense, we give a cordial invitation to call at our homes and interview her pupils.

Winter Wisdom.

Warm clothing alone will not protect the body against the consequences of the sudden depression of temperature which is concomitant of early winter. Flannel next the skin preserves the animal heat, but it does not impart animal vigor. That property is the special prerogative of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is therefore a specific protection against a majority of the complaints which are most common at this season. For example, a course of the great vegetable invigorant, commenced now, will be almost sure to preclude chills and fever, bilious colic, disorders of the stomach, constipation and many other complaints which are often the direct or indirect effect of an atmosphere surcharged with cold, unwholesome vapor. Moreover, the system toned and regulated by this means is much more likely to resist pulmonary disease than it would otherwise be; for, the influence of searching medicine pervades all the organs, and every fiber and tissue of the frame. Persons whose vital powers are weak, especially invalid ladies and the aged, are earnestly recommended not to face the winter's rigor without having recourse to this safe and sufficient means of re-enforcing enfeebled nature. Much suffering may be escaped, much danger averted by following the council. "Better late than never," is a good proverb, but it is better to be early than late.

NEW YORK

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY!

PURELY MUTUAL!

ASSETS ..... $17,000,000!

ISSUED 9,025 POLICIES IN 1870.

Insuring Over $27,000,000!

WM. H. BEERS, Vice President and Actuary.
MORRIS FRANKLIN, President.

AMONG THE ADVANTAGES OFFERED BY THE NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY are:—

1st.—PURE MUTUALITY, so that the entire surplus earnings over the actual cost of insurance is returned to the policy holders who are the only members.

2d. AGE, having been organized in 1845. It has the benefit of the experience of a quarter of a century, and members are thus guaranteed from all doubtful experiment in the method of conducting its business.

3d. STABILITY AND PERPETUITY shown by the accumulation of a capital of Seventeen Millions of Dollars, after paying all losses promptly, and returning large dividends to its members. It has now an income of over Seven Millions of Dollars, and the interest on its investments, with premium on gold, &c., has been sufficient during the past two years to pay accruing losses.

4th. NON-FORFEITURE OF POLICIES. It originated the system of non-forfeiture of policies, and to it the public are indebted for a feature so favorable to the insured.

5th. SUICIDE does not cause a forfeiture of the policy, that being considered an evidence of insanity, and insanity the result of disease.

6th. DIVIDENDS. Its dividends are declared annually, and are available immediately as cash in payment of premiums. Many companies declare their premiums annually, but do not pay them till several years thereafter; others defer their declarations for two, three or four years from the time the policy commences. In this Company a party always has a dividend which can be used in the payment of the second and all subsequent annual premiums.

7th. ITS DIVIDEND SYSTEM is the "Contribution Plan," by which each member is charged with the exact cost of his insurance, and receives back his surplus payments. These dividends can remain with the Company, participating in its earnings, and be used at any subsequent period in the payment of premiums.

8th. LIBERALITY IN SETTLEMENT OF LOSSES. Experience has shown that cases arise where policies, although equitably claims, are not LEGALLY SO. The records of this Company bear many acknowledgments from widows and relatives of deceased members of its liberality and fairness in settlement of all such cases. There being no stockholders in the Company to share its profits, interests adverse to policy-holders cannot possibly arise, the Trustees simply accepting the position of arbitrators between the members, with no inducement to take from one and give to another.

A Church Belle.

A dainty little bonnet,
The sweetest mushroom,
A sea of tawny wavelets,
O'er forehead white as snow,
A brace of sparkling sapphires,
A pair of lips of cherry,
And a fascinating sigh.
Think'st thou she goes to worship?
Ah! it is difficult to tell,
But it's quite bewitching and sinners
Worship that Sabbath Belle.

A tightly fitting bodice,
Costumed in Decade 3,
Short petticoats with flounces,
Enamelled shoes with buckles,
Such as the Frenchmen wear,
With long cane-headed staff,
To give a Grecian bend.
Think'st thou it's for God's glory
She dresses out so well?
Or does she want some saint or sinner
To love the Sabbath Belle?

The Life-Ledger.

Our sufferings we reckon o'er
With skill minute and formal;
The cheerful ease that fills the score
We treat as merely normal.
Our list of ills, how full how great!
We mourn our lot should fail so.
I wonder, do we calculate
Our happiness also?

Were it not best to keep account
Of well-days, if of any?
Perhaps the dark ones might amount
To not so very many.
We know we have nigh no offset by
As sad or even solemn;
Behold my entry for to-day
Is in the "happy" column.

PICKINGS.

Josh Billings says, "knowing how to sit square on a mule, without hurting, is one of the lost arts."

Coroner's jury at La Crosse call it "probable murder" when a corpse is found with seven stabs in the back.

An opponent of the public school system insists that if you teach a boy to write, he is much less likely to make his mark in after life.

A Jersey City five-year old hanged himself in a fit of passion. He was cut down by his grieved parents and judiciously spanked.

The Mayor of Delphi, Ind., has issued a curious edict forbidding citizens from going out after 9 o'clock P. M. So when evening calls are made the parties have to stay till morning.

A Hartford [illegible] retired to rest in a neighbor[illegible] complained that the long [illegible] of his l[illegible] anyhow."

In Lincoln [illegible] Nevada, there is a mountain of salt, pure and transparent. In early days when the Mormons had to rely solely on their own resources they used flakes from this mountain for window panes instead of glass.

A Thrilling Sketch.—Let a man fail in business, what a wonderful effect it has on his former friends and creditors. Men, who had taken him by the arm, laughed and chatted with him by the hour, slunk up their shoulders and pass him with a chilling "How do you do?" Every trifle of a bill is hunted up and presented, that would not have seen daylight for months to come, but for the misfortune of the debtor. If this is paid, well and good; if not the scowl of the Sheriff, perhaps, meets him at the corner. A man that never failed knows but little of human nature. In prosperity he sails along, gently wafted by flowing smiles and kind words from everybody. He plumes himself upon his good name and spotless character, and makes his boast that he has not an enemy in the world. Alas! the change. He looks at the world in a different light when reverses come upon him. He reads suspicion on every brow. He hardly knows how to move, or whether to do this thing or the other—for there are spies about him, and a wife is ready for his back. To understand what kind of stuff the world is made of, a person must be unfortunate and stop payment once in a lifetime. If he has any fine friends, (here they are) he finds them fast. A failure is a moral salve. It brings out the wheat and shows the chaff. A man thus learns that words and a pretended good will do not constitute real friendship.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Gold in New York 110¾.

Portland Legal Tender quotations, 93c buying, and 91 selling.

The brig Orient cleared to-day for San Francisco, taking 7,075 sks Wheat, weighing 383,150 lbs.

The bark Dundee, was chartered by Hewett, Glover-dove & Co. to load Wheat for San Francisco. She will take on 450 tons.

The Grecer Roberts cleared from Honolulu with cargo of island produce, Nov. 10th, and is now fully due. She comes consigned to Allen & Lewis.

Ocean advices quote Oregon Pine Lumber at $33 for rough and $41 for surface. No wheat is reported in store for shipment.

Nothing has as yet been heard from the bark Live Yankee, J. Chas. Creary, commander. She sailed from Astoria for Liverpool, Sept. 27th, with a cargo of 1,600 tons of Wheat, loaded here and consigned to L. Freidlander, San Francisco.

The Oswegan, owing to the storm at Astoria, did not attempt to cross the Barracuda, but as soon as the storm moderates the Oswegan will attempt to cross and tow her up.

Trade for all descriptions of food is very firm with a strong upward tendency. With a continuation of the present storm prices must advance.

The officers of the Dixie Thompson report high winds at Astoria with a heavy sea on last night with a slight abatement this morning. They thought that unless greatly moderated the steamer Oriflamme would be unable to cross the bar to-day.

The list of vessels cleared at San Francisco, for the quarter ending September 30th, 1871, to load Wheat was quite small, numbering only 23, against 61 vessels for the same quarter in 1870. The number of vessels chartered to load for ports other than U. K. or Continent was 4. 24 of them to Peru; 5 to Chili, 0 to China, 4 to Australia, 1 to Mexico and 1 to the Cape of Good Hope. In the corresponding period of time last year the Liverpool charters only numbered 17 vessels. The charters to load Cuano were 2; to load Dyewoods, 3; Coal, 4; miscellaneous cargoes, 31. The [illegible] against none for the corresponding period of last year.

Late mail advices from Europe state that the German Government was proceeding actively with the coinage and recoinage of Gold now locked up in the exchequer of [illegible] and it was estimated that $15,000,000 would soon be set free as the standard gold currency of the country for all exchanges and Free Cities now composing the Empire. The whole amount of gold virtually locked up from the circulation and the money market, before the Legislature took charge of coinage and the gold currency, was recently stated at $200,000,000.

The rate of discount at Paris is 5 per cent; at Amsterdam, 3; at Hamburg, 4; Berlin, 4½; Trieste and Vienna, 7; Madrid, 6; at the Spanish Ports, 7; St. Petersburg, 8; Belgium, 5; Turin, Florence and Rome, 5; Barcelona and Cadiz, 8; London, 4; New York, 6@7, and San Francisco, 10@15 per cent.

From Comptroller Hubbard's statement of the condition of the National Banks of each State and Territory in the United States, October 25, 1871, we summarize the following in comparison with the returns, Oct. 5th, 1870: The number of Banks is 1,767, whose capital has increased from $430,000,000 to $455,000,000. With this increase in capital, there has been an expansion of $15,000,000 in loans and discounts, while the individual deposits have increased $20,000,000. The circulation has expanded from $291,000,000 to $315,000,000, an increase of $24,000,000. The Banks hold $14,000,000 more of the several forms of circulation, so that the increase in circulation outside of the Banks is only $9,500,000. The extent that the circulation has varied, in connection with the additional issue of Treasury Notes, may be judged from the following statement showing the amount of currency in the hands of the Banks:

	On Oct. 2, '71.	On Oct. 3, '70.
United States Notes	$106,000,000	$77,200,000
National Bank Notes	14,200,000	12,500,000
Cl. House Certificates	27,200,000	18,100,000
Three per Cent. Certificates	1,100,000	22,200,000
Total	$148,500,000	$134,100,000

Increase, $14,400,000, while the issues of Notes have been increased $24,000,000. The retiring of the 3-per ct. certificates has called for $10,250,000 more Legal Tenders in the form of the Banks; not only has that amount been taken into the vaults, but $10,500,000 more (there being an increase of $20,700,000 in the United States Notes in Banks), so that the gain from the new Bank issue has been more than offset by the withdrawals of Legal Tenders into the Banks. From this showing, the prediction made that a large inflation of circulation would result from the authorization of $56,000,000 additional bank circulation has proven erroneous.

The California press are congratulating themselves that enough rain has fallen to insure a good harvest for the farmers of that State, who have very generally adopted Summer fallowing, so that with the amount of rain that has already fallen, and with the certainty, judging from all previous years, of more, at such length of time as will cause the grass to grow, so that there is no possibility can there be such failures as have occurred the past two seasons. The amount of land that has been and will be seeded this season in California is larger, how much so added this season is not estimated, than any previous year. have as yet seen no estimate, than any previous year. Next Fall, the vast system of irrigation will be so far completed as to irrigate several millions of acres, which, even with a drought, will insure to California a large yield of cereals.

Produce Market.

WHEAT—Owing to the low offerings of shippers we have no transactions to note, and consequently can only give what shippers are willing to pay. We quote nominal at $2 15@2 20 ₩ cental, sacked.

FLOUR—The amount that will be shipped to San Francisco this season will not be over one half of the amount shipped last season, as millers have not purchased as heavily of Wheat as heretofore, and in some instances where heavy purchases were made they have disposed of same. If a favorable turn to the Wheat market should occur, with higher prices ruling, millers will be free sellers. We quote market at $7 25 ₩ bbl for extra of standard brands, and $7 for extra of country brands; superfine and cuisido brands, $6 50 ₩ bbl.

OATS—We hear of a sale of 720 centals at Gervais for this market at $2 65 delivered here; he quoted higher than last quotations, yet with an active demand prices must advance. We quote Timothy baled at $30 per ton; other descriptions at $18@20 ₩ ton baled.

RAILROAD LANDS.

OFFICE OF LAND DEPARTMENT,
OREGON & CALIFORNIA R. R. CO.
AND
European and Oregon Land Co.,
PORTLAND, OREGON, August 1, 1871.

THE COMPANY IS NOW PREPARED TO EXTEND to the public the privilege of purchasing Railroad Lands in advance of the same being placed in market to all parties desiring of securing them on the following terms:

The applicant filing in this office a claim in the form prescribed, to-wit:

Pre-emption, Sale, No.

To the Land Agent of the European and Oregon Land Company:

Sir: You are hereby notified that I have settled upon and improved (description of land) in the county of State of Oregon, containing [illegible] acres, and that I claim a pre-emption right to purchase said lands at the Company's valuation in accordance with the following resolution of the Directors of said Company, adopted on the twenty-sixth day of May, A. D. 1871, to the terms of which I hereby fully assent:

"Resolved, That the parties settling upon and improving any of the lands of the European and Oregon Land Company before the same are opened for market, shall be entitled to the pre-emption privilege of purchase on the same terms as the Company would sell the land for without improvement, and shall be subject to the same conditions of payment as all other lands belonging to the Company, when brought into the market; provided, such settlers shall file in the Land Office of said Company, within application during ninety days of such settlement, and shall accept the privilege upon the condition that when the price of the land shall be fixed, notice thereof shall be sent by the Company's Land Agent, through the Postoffice, or otherwise, as may be convenient, to the residence of the party claiming the pre-emption privilege, and if the land is not purchased by the said party within sixty days from the date of such notice, the Company will be at liberty to sell the land to any other person."

(Name of applicant.)

(Postoffice address.)

When the application is received, a certificate, signed by the Agent, obligating the Company to the terms, will be sent to the claimant in the following form:

PRE-EMPTION CERTIFICATE, No. ——.

This is to certify that [illegible] of [illegible] county, State of Oregon, has this day filed in this office a pre-emption claim for (description of premises), and is hereby entitled to the first privilege of purchasing said land at the Company's valuation; (which is to be made without reference to improvements) when the same shall be placed in market, in accordance with a resolution of the Board of Directors of said Company, adopted May 26, A. D. 1871.

When the price of the above described land is fixed, notice thereof will be sent to the party to whom this Certificate is issued, and if the land is not purchased by the said party as the holder hereof within sixty days from the date of said notice, the Company will be at liberty to sell the land to any other person.

(Signed) Land Agent of the E. & O. Land Co.

The lands will be appraised by a competent, disinterested party, under oath, at their actual present value—no fancy or prospective price on the basis of claims in the vicinity, and when appraisement is made they will be sold in quantity not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres to one person, payable in five equal annual instalments, with interest from date of contract, at ten per cent. per annum, principal and interest payable in United States Legal Tender Notes. Warranty deeds given after United States Patent issues, upon payment in full.
